

A PROMISING YEAR

Activity: Follow-up

Do you remember what your horoscope said? Imagine a year went by and your horoscope did not come true. Make a complaint explaining what did not occur and what happened instead.

Make sure your students remember how to use reported speech and reporting verbs!

E.g. Horoscope: “2016 will give you many opportunities to improve your finances. You will get promoted. Family should become a priority. Your two sons will be your pride and joy. You are likely to have your longed-for baby girl.”

Complaint: “You promised that I would get promoted but I didn’t. What is more, my rent was increased twice. You said I was likely to get a baby girl, but I gave birth to twins - boys again. You told me I would be proud of my teenage sons but ... ”

Activity inspired by Anna Poplawska's workshop „Spice up your class” 2015.
